

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, preparation for a purposeful career path helps ensure gainful employment best utilizing one's skills and talents while providing potential employers with a well-prepared workforce ready to meet the challenges of the global marketplace; and

WHEREAS, in our schools, career development programs enable students to gain a realistic understanding of how formal education prepares them for limitless career opportunities; and

WHEREAS, career development activities in our communities contribute to lower unemployment as people identify careers that match their interests and desired work environments; and

WHEREAS, with the theme "My Career, My Community, My Calling," the 2005 National Career Development Month highlights the importance of recognizing that a career is more than just a job.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim November 2005 as

throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to recognize the positive impact of career development on employment opportunities and quality of life.
